This is a Demo page where you can try Talk Inline Comments in action. Feel free to add, edit and delete comments anywhere you want.

Why Talk?

With Talk you can:

- add inline comments in any place on a Confluence page
- work with inline comments in the 'Edit' mode
- restrict viewing of comments to specific users or groups
- see the counter of inline comments on a page
- pick colors of discussions, e.g. to prioritize them
- view all page inline comments at once instead of seeing one at a time, and more

Typical workflow

1. Point to an appropriate text paragraph or page element until the Talk  icon appears. Or, select a text snippet, wait for a pop-up.
2. Click the Talk icon.
3. Enter your initial request or question.
4. Save the talk.

 Before trying to insert talks on the page, ensure that this option is enabled and you are logged in. You can also press 'd' on your keyboard to activate this feature.

These options are not available to non-authorized users. If you have not authenticated yet, please log in with the guest account.

Add talks while viewing the page contents

Point to the current text snippet until the Talk  icon appears and click this icon.

Adding comments

You can add a comment to any page or blog post, provided that you have the 'Add Comments' permission in the page's permissions. You can also add a comment to a comment with or enjoyed someone else's comment, by liking it.

Comments are displayed at the bottom of the page, below the page content. They appear in one of two views:

- Threaded – This view shows the comments in a hierarchy (tree) of responses. The replies are indented under the comments they reply to.
- Flat – This view displays all the comments in a single list and does not indicate the relationships between comments.

Adding a comment

You can add a comment on pages and blog posts in Confluence. To add a comment, you need the 'Add Comments' permission in the page's permissions.

To add a new comment:

1. Type your comment in the comment field at the bottom of the page.
2. Choose Preview to see how your comment will appear.
3. By default, Watch this page is ticked. This means that you will start receiving notifications about this page when it is updated. If you do not want to watch the page, click the Stop watching button.
4. Choose Save.

You can also highlight any text on a page, and choose the Quote in Comment button that appears near your cursor. To add a comment, copy the highlighted text into the comment field, apply the Quote style, and leave the cursor in the comment field ready to type a comment.

You can add a comment to any page or blog post, provided that you have the 'Add Comments' permission in the space. You can also show that you agree with or enjoyed someone else's comment, by liking it.

- Threaded – This view shows the comments in a hierarchy (tree) of responses. The replies are indented to indicate the relationships between the comments.
- Flat – This view displays all the comments in a single list and does not indicate the relationships between comments.

Adding a comment

You can add a comment on pages and blog posts in Confluence. To add a comment, you need the 'Add Comments' permission. See Space permissions.

To add a new comment:

1. Type your comment in the comment field at the bottom of the page.
2. Choose Preview to see how your comment will appear.
3. By default, Watch this page is ticked. This means that you will start receiving notifications about this page. Uncheck this if you do not want to watch the page.
4. Choose Save.

You can also highlight any text on a page, and choose the Quote in Comment button that appears near your selection. This will add the highlighted text into the comment field, apply the Quote style, and leave the cursor in the comment field ready to type a comment. If you do not see a popup when you highlight text, check that Text Select is enabled in your profile settings.

Comment Thread:

Vadim Rutkevich Jun 26, 2014 11:43
Is there a way to add inline comments?

Peter Jacobs Jun 26, 2014 11:51
There is no way to do it in Confluence with native tools.

Try Talk Inline Comments for Confluence.

You can use plain text or wiki markup

Try to type something like `bold` or `_italic_` in reply.

Use mentions in comments

Mentions help get your team more involved. Try and type `@gue` in your comment to mention the user Guest One.

Edit or delete comments

Try to edit or delete comments.

Receive email and Workbox notifications about new comments

Notifications are not configured in this Demo. However, you can see the screen shot below to get a better understanding of the idea
